

Thank you for thinking of Empower Field at Mile High for your upcoming event! Below is helpful information when inquiring about booking Empower Field at Mile High. We've gathered our most frequently asked questions about booking event space and placed them in this document. Please review the document and let your Sales Manager know if you have any additional questions.

Step 1: Availability of venue:

Empower Field at Mile High is available year-round for private bookings. The venue does not book private events during home games or other large public events. If you are interested in suite rentals during a game or large public event, please contact premium seating at 720.258.3333. The NFL regular season schedule is released in April/May each year. Once the schedule is released, we're able to confirm Sundays, Mondays, & Thursdays from September-December. The venue allows private bookings during the season on non-game days. Playoffs occur in January; therefore, Empower Field at Mile High is not able to confirm any Saturday or Sunday bookings in the month of January until the final playoff schedule is confirmed.

Step 2: A Sales Proposal does not guarantee a hold on event space(s):

Upon receiving your sales proposal for event space(s), please know this is a sales proposal with basic information about event space options. The proposal does not guarantee a hold on the event space(s). If you would like to place a soft hold, please reply to the email or contact the Sales Manager by phone to place a soft hold on specific event space(s). Once the event space(s) are on hold, this gives you the first right of refusal. If another party inquires about the event space, you'll receive a call or email from the Sales Manager. You'll have 5-business days to enter into a contract or the event space is released.

Step 3: Catering

Empower Field at Mile High is exclusive to Epicurean & Aramark for food & beverage options. Epicurean & Aramark offer full service catering onsite. In the initial sales proposal, the catering contact is copied on the sales proposal and reaches out separately with sample menus and pricing options. Prior to booking the venue, please work with our two exclusive catering companies on your desired menu. If you move forward with booking Empower Field at Mile High, you'll contract separately with each catering company and work directly with them on food/beverage needs. Table linens & glassware are not included in your rental. Please work directly with catering to provide quotes on linens and glassware from our exclusive provider, Event Rents. Once you have firmed up your rental items, Epicurean & Aramark will send you separate invoice from Event Rents. The venue does not allow outside food brought into the venue.

Step 4: Schedule a Site Visit

The sales proposals and website provide great photos and diagrams. It is helpful to schedule a site to view the event space(s) and discuss additional options available for your event. We understand it is not always possible to see the venue, due to travel, schedules, etc. If you are not able to visit the venue, we have a large library of photos, diagrams and additional information about the event space(s). If you're able to attend a walkthrough prior to booking, please contact your Sales Manager and find a time available for everyone who is interested in viewing the event space(s). Due to the confidentiality of events, we do not conduct site visits during another event. In addition, we're not able to schedule site visits during a large public event (i.e. concerts, football games, and lacrosse games). When scheduling a site visit, the Sales Manager provides parking directions on where to park/enter for the site visit. Please forward the directions to all those in attendance. The average site visit takes an hour to view the space(s) and discuss any additional questions. The catering companies are not present on the initial site visit, unless you would like them to join in; therefore, please let us know! Site visits are available Monday through Friday, 8:00am-5:00pm (based on availability of event space).

Entering Into a Contract:

Step 1: Preparing the contract:

Once you are ready to move forward and confirm your booking, please contact your Sales Manager to complete the contract requirements.

In order to process a contract, here is what's needed:

Date:

Please specify your event date.

Name of Licensee:

Please provide the legal name of the company, whom is included as the Licensee in the contract (responsible party). The Licensee is required to provide an insurance policy (see insurance policy on page 4 of this document).

Licensee Address:

- The address listed on the contract, is the address the invoice and the Performance Deposit is refunded to. If you have different addresses, please provide specifics.

Event Space(s):

- Please provide a list of the event spaces(s) you would like to contract.

Estimated Attendance:

- An estimated attendance is fine for the initial contract. As we get closer to the event, an exact attendance is needed for food, beverage & seating.

Event start/end time:

- We consider an event to start when the first guests walks into the building, not necessarily when the presentation starts. Events are based on 4 exclusive hours, plus additional hours for setup. Please include your guest registration time when submitting your timeline to the venue.

Amount of time needed for setup:

- The venue completes the setup of the event space(s) according to the final diagram (tables, chairs, dance floor, staging, catering tables, etc.). Depending on the event taking place the day before your event, will depend on when the event space is complete. Upon conclusion of the venue setup, you are welcome to access the space to setup your items. On average, the venue is complete with your setup 4-hours prior to the start time. Every event varies on the amount of setup time needed. Please consider the amount of time needed to setup: registration, tradeshow booths, entertainment, auction items, audio visual rehearsal, etc. If your event requires an additional day for setup, please contact your Sales Manager, as setup days are additional and not included in the room rental.

Name of Event:

- What is the main name of your event? This is helpful at the entrance of venue when guests are accessing the building. If you are not sure what your event name is, we can use your Licensee name. Once we get closer to the event, we can name your event and use that for security purposes. If your event name and/or Licensee name should remain confidential, please notify your event operations contact.

Main contact person's information:

- Please list the person(s) that are responsible for the event details and planning of the event. We'll need the name, email, and phone number of the contact person(s). If you are planning on changing contacts on event day, please provide that information as you get closer to your event. It's also common that groups have a contact person for the contract (i.e. contract signer). We can certainly include that person's information on the contract as well.

Step 2: Sending the Contract:

Once the Contract is complete, the Sales Manager sends you a final contract (email or mail) to confirm the booking. In addition to the contract, you'll receive the Terms & Conditions, Insurance Requirements, and Schedule 1 (vendor information). Please review the documents and notify your Sales Manager if you have any changes to the language of the contract. If you have edits to your contract language, please allow 14 days to receive counter edits and/or feedback on requested changes from Denver Broncos legal.

Step 3: Introduction to your Event Operations Contact:

Following the contract phase of your event, you're introduced to your Operations Contact. Your operations contact helps to successfully complete your event on behalf of the venue. You'll work directly with your operations contact moving forward to finalize all event needs. You'll continue working with your catering contacts on behalf of your catering needs.

Other Contracted Items Needed

When you begin planning your event details with the operations contact, you'll receive an Event Planners Guide, which provides useful information on setup, load-in, audio visual, parking, etc. Below are additional items of importance required when booking an event. These items are further explained in your Event Planners Guide, yet it is important to understand the following before contracting with the venue.

We are able to credit your credit card for the amount not used or we're able to send you a check for the remaining amount. The refund check is made out to the licensee and sent to the address listed on the contract.

If you are not able to obtain a policy per the recruitments below, the venue is able to order a policy that covers your event up to $1,000,000 of General Liability.
